Participants will have an opportunity to discuss the nuances of working with supervisees who identify as LGBTQ+ or those who work with the LGBTQ+ clients.

The training will be interactive. It will include lectures, conversations and practice, as well as an opportunity to self-reflect on supervisors' bias and blind spots regarding gender, sex and relationship diversities.

Learning Outcomes: By the end of the day participants will be able to:

- Understand the specificities of working with LGBTQ+ supervisees and those working with LGBTQ+ clients.
- Apply the 7-eye model of clinical supervision with supervisees who identify as LGBTQ+ or those working with the LGBTQ+ clients.
- Explore the supervisor/ supervisee dynamic in relation to gender, sex, sexuality and relationship diversities.
- Work through important ethical considerations.
